NEWNHAM AND SELWYN COLLEGES

Take advantage of this FREE, friendly and confidential service that will help improve your writing skills

Students of any discipline, at any level of study – from 1st year to postgraduate – are welcome to book an online session with our Royal Literary Fund Writing Fellow, Claudine Toutoungi: a published writer whose role is to help you strengthen your writing.

Sign up for a 50-minute one-to-one tutorial to help you:

- Plan your study time.
- Focus your reading for essay, dissertation or thesis writing.
- Express your ideas more clearly and confidently.
- Answer grammar and punctuation questions.
- Discover reading to improve your writing and editing skills.
- Increase your writing skills with the aim of improving your grades.
- Improve any academic writing: essays, reports, theses, dissertations, book chapters, creative writing. (RLF Fellows do not undertake proofreading.)

Meet your Fellow:

Claudine is a playwright and poet. Her first collection Smoothie (Carcenet, 2017) received warm reviews and was followed by TwoTongues (Carcenet, 2020), which won the Ledbury Munthe poetry prize in 2021. Her poetry has appeared widely in the UK and abroad and her live poetry contributions to festivals include Tongue Fu, Poetry East and appearances on BBC Radio 4. Claudine's plays Bit Part and Slipping ran at the Stephen Joseph Theatre following Slipping's selection for New York's Lark Play Centre's international HotINK festival. She has written multiple dramas for BBC Radio 4 including dramatizations, series and several seasons of the WW1 drama Home Front.
