

Selwyn College Music Society

Michaelmas Term 2020

Sundays at 8:30pm | Selwyn Hall or Chapel

Admission Free

Each recital will be followed by a retiring collection, and the majority of recitals will be live-streamed on YouTube.

Sunday 18th October – Eszter Brandt and James Hendy: Flute Recital

Second-year Selwyn chemical engineer Eszter Brandt opens this term's series of recitals, accompanied on the piano by Robinson College's Organ Scholar, James Hendy.

Hall

Sunday 25th October – Freshers' Recital

Our first-year instrumentalists and singers come together to present all the new musical talent we have at Selwyn!

Hall

Sunday 1st November – Lloyd Hampton and Kevin Loh

Girton music students Lloyd Hampton and Kevin Loh present a captivating selection of works for flute and classical guitar.

Chapel

Sunday 8th November – Emily Trubshaw and Henrietta McFarlane

Early solo violin works by JS Bach are contrasted by a series of violin duets by Béla Bartók in a compelling recital programme.

Chapel

Sunday 15th November – Michael Stephens-Jones: Organ Recital

Selwyn's infamous Senior Organ Scholar will perform pieces by a range of composers including Marchand, Franck and Kenneth Leighton.

Chapel

Sunday 22nd November – Siân Ellis: Piano Recital

Second-year music student Siân Ellis treats us to an exciting programme of solo piano works by JS Bach, Debussy, Chopin and Schubert.

Hall

Sunday 29th November – Christmas Concert

Selwyn College Orchestra, alongside members of the Chapel Choir, draw the term to a close with a Christmas celebration in the chapel. Mulled wine and mince pies will be served after the concert to continue the festive cheer.

Chapel